Time:

We have the privilege of hearing the “Children of the World Choir” on November 10th at 6:15 p.m. Come and enjoy these fantastic little children sing praises to the King. The program will last one hour and there will be a freewill offering taken at the end of the concert to help orphaned and disadvantaged children all over the world.

WHO IS CHILDREN OF THE WORLD?

Children of the World International Children’s Choir is comprised of 30 children from the countries of Uganda, Nepal & the Philippines. These children, many of whom are orphans, travel the U.S. for 10 months raising the awareness of the plight of orphaned and disadvantaged children all over the world. The choir, made up of two teams, began its 2009-2010 tour in August and will travel through November 2010, presenting their program to churches, schools, and other organizations. Each program includes powerful testimonies from the children’s personal experiences, several songs in both English and native dialects, and a video presentation including footage of the children’s home countries.

THEIR MISSION:

Their purpose is to raise awareness on the need for clean water around the world. To learn how you can get involved, please come to their concert on November 10; more information is available on the website www.worldhelp.net.

Today 6,000 children will die because they have no access to clean water. In a country where clean, filtered water is a faucet away, it is hard to imagine what people in the developing world go through for a sip of clean water. Dirty water claims more lives than HIV/AIDS, malaria, war, and traffic accidents combined, and yet few people choose to do anything about this crisis.

Now, you can make a difference in the lives of children and communities around the world that have been devastated by the effects of dirty water.
